Dear Fellow Members,

On behalf of our friends at the Irish Cultural Center of New England (ICC), we are pleased to invite you to take part in a remote lecture series via Zoom entitled "Irish Famines before and after the Great Hunger." The talks will be presented on six consecutive Tuesday evenings, 6-7pm, beginning Sept. 8.

This 6-week series will be hosted by our past Crowley Lecture guest speaker and the founding director of the Ireland's Great Hunger Institute at Quinnipiac University, Dr. Christine Kinealy, along with Dr. Gerard Moran.

Drs. Kinealy and Moran earlier this month published a new book by the same name as the lecture series and are co-editors of the book, the cover of which is shown below. The book's chapters are authored by the individuals who are featured presenters in the lecture series.

NOTE: You do not have to commit to all six lectures to take part, nor do you have to be an ICC member. However, registration is required and a suggested donation is requested. Once the participant registers for the lecture(s) with the ICC and makes an online donation on their website, they will be sent an email with the link to the Zoom presentation(s).

This overview does not do justice to this fine series, nor does it provide all the details. Please click the below RED button for complete information from the ICC.

Finally, please take note of the contact information for the ICC's Famine lecture series event coordinator, Ms. Maudy Dooher, provided below. If you would like to register, or have questions after you've clicked the red button and reviewed all the event info, you must contact Maudy.

We hope many of you will be able to virtually attend one or more of these presentations. Many thanks to the ICC for hosting this series!

Ann Arnold May,
Board of Directors/
Crowley Lecture Series Coordinator
