DR. SCHULT'S OCTOBER TALK IS TITLED:
"Mass mailings: The Irish and American Miracles of Prince Hoheolohe, 1823-24"

In March 1824, Ann Carbery Mattingly, of Washington, was cured from breast cancer, allegedly by Prince Alexander Hohenlohe, a German priest and miracle-worker in Europe. News of the Prince's miracles had reached America following a series of cures in Ireland, and the Prince had sent his instructions for obtaining the cures to Washington through the mail- as early form of "Mass" mailing. This presentation explores the connection between the Irish cures and what became of the Capital Miracle, the unexplained cure of Mrs. Mattingly in 1824.

Following the lecture, a reception with light Hors d'oeuvres will be held
